LECTURE

“Pediatric Dental Pearls”

Friday, October 13, 2017

(8 hrs. AGD Pedo Lecture Credit) (IDBE pending final approval)

This course is designed to give the participants a clear understanding and comfort level working with children while learning modern techniques and materials in all aspects of pediatric dentistry. There have been many changes in the materials used in pediatric dentistry over the past few years. By using specific cases from his office, Dr. Wren will review his choices of materials and methods for performing various pediatric dental procedures. While this presentation is case based, Dr. Wren will briefly review the science and literature behind the materials that he uses. At the conclusion of the course, the participant will know how to confidently treat the pediatric patient and get predictable treatment results.

Learning Objectives

- Learn “modern day” behavior guidance methods
- Understand emerging trends in caries control and treatment that is based on caries risk assessment
- Understand the differences and treatment decisions of glass ionomer vs. bioactive vs. resin based composites
- Learn when full coverage restorations are needed and how to perform these procedures (resin crowns vs. class III restorations in the anterior primary teeth, stainless steel crowns vs. large amalgams/resins)
- Learn when/how to perform various pulp therapy procedures (indirect pulp therapy,
